

Heat Wave Sets Record For June 16 Date

Senate May Follow House On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—Rep. Keating (R-NY) predicted today the Senate will follow the House lead in rejecting jury trial amendments to President Eisenhower's civil rights bill. It is scheduled for House passage tomorrow.

Keating has had the principal Republican role in shaping the bill and, along with Rep. Celler (D-NY) handling it during six days of House debate.

The defeat, Friday, 199-167, of the attempt by House Southerners to write into the measure a larger role for local juries left no doubt that the House will pass the bill tomorrow without substantial changes. The House has agreed to close debate not later than 6 p.m.

The jury trial amendment concededly was the one for which the Southerners had the best chance of attracting support outside their area.

Clouded Future

However, the bill has a clouded future in the Senate, which filibustering Southerners in the past have made a graveyard for such legislation.

Its prospects brightened somewhat yesterday with news that Vice President Nixon, president of the Senate, and Republican Leader Knowland of California were teaming up in an attempt to rush the bill onto the Senate calendar without the usual preliminary of routing it to the Judiciary Committee.

Such procedure, if successful, would get the bill past one pitfall, but would not eliminate an eventual filibuster.

Sen. Eastland (D-Miss.), a vigorous foe of civil rights legislation, is chairman of the Judiciary Committee. It voted to attach a jury trial amendment but has otherwise taken little action.

The civil rights bill provides for the attorney general to go to federal court for injunctions to ward off or undo violations of civil rights. Persons defying such injunctions would be subject to punishment for contempt of court.

The Southerners sought to require that trials of such persons for contempt of court must be held before a jury.

Jordan Closes Cairo Embassy

AMMAN, Jordan, June 16 (AP)—King Hussein's government announced tonight Jordan's embassy in Cairo is being closed—a step marking a serious new crisis in relations with Egypt.

Foreign Minister Samir Rifai insisted closing the embassy did not mean "severing political relations" with President Nasser's government, but he said all employees of the Jordan Embassy would be called home.

Senator Urges Air Trading With Red China Interests

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash.) proposed today that American air carriers be permitted to fly passengers and mail to Communist China. He suggested this as a possible preliminary step toward relaxing trade barriers.

Magnuson said the Senate Commerce Committee he heads intends to explore this question with Secretary of State Dulles, as well as the possibility of admission of American newsmen to China.

Committee

The committee will begin a

Record To Publish During Movement Of Departments

EVERY MEMBER OF THE DAILY RECORD family begs the indulgence during the next two weeks of all its friends, advertisers and readers.

Starting at 7 a.m. today various service departments of this newspaper will be moved from its present location 18 N. 7th St., to the attractive new plant location at the corner of Broad and Lenox Sts., South Stroudsburg.

Beginning June 24 a concern expert in moving newspaper plant equipment will start transfer of mechanical equipment to the new plant. The Daily Record Family will issue the June 25 edition in the new plant.

We have done everything possible in planning the change of location to provide the best possible service to the customers of this newspaper and to continue to create for its readers a fine product.

Naturally all operations will be under considerable pressure created by all of this moving operation.

It is for this reason we crave your indulgence and cooperation until such time as the transfer is completed and a much finer product is presented to all readers, advertisers and friends.

All of us will certainly appreciate your cooperation during the next two weeks.

Finance Committee Plans To Launch Comprehensive Probe

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) said today the Finance Committee would launch Tuesday the most comprehensive probe of the nation's financial condition in nearly half a century.

There has been nothing like it, he said, since the Aldrich investigation in 1908.

That investigation was conducted by a monetary commission headed by Sen. Nelson Aldrich (R-R.I.). It ran four years and was credited with laying the groundwork for legislative reforms.

Byrd made the comparison in a television interview — "Dateline Washington" on WDSU, New Orleans.

Schedule

The committee begins the probe Tuesday with Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey in the witness chair. A seat he is expected to occupy for several days.

Several Democrats on the committee expect to turn the investigation into an attack on what they call the Eisenhower administration's tight money policies.

Byrd said, however, that he considered inflation was the No. 1 problem disturbing the committee.

The dollar has lost over half of its purchasing power since 1940, he said, adding that one of the most discouraging points was that inflation had resumed in the past year with a further 2-cent reduction in the dollar's value.

Japanese Prime Minister Leaves For U.S.

TOKYO, June 16 (AP)—Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi left tonight for a two-week visit in the United States. He carried Japanese hopes for a more important role in Asia.

Kishi told an airport crowd of 3,000 flag-waving members of his party he intends to tell President Eisenhower in conferences later this week "what is really wanted by the Japanese people."

The sendoff crowd, brought to the airport in buses chartered by Kishi's Liberal Democratic party, shouted a triple "banzei"—long live—as the smiling, waving Premier boarded a Japan Air Lines plane for the flight to San Francisco.

Wave Flags

The throng waved a cloud of paper Japanese flags, several score American flags and banners with slogans such as: "Banzei Japan-American friendship."

"Kishi, do your best."

"Return Okinawa and the Bonin Islands."

"Banzei great Japan."

There was no mention of the celebrated Girard case, threatening U. S.-Japan friendship.

"My present visit is by no means a courtesy visit," the 60-year-old Prime Minister said in his prepared departure statement.

"The purpose of my visit is to hold a frank exchange of views with President Eisenhower and other high officials of the United States government on matters of common interest and concern to both countries and to tell them candidly what is really wanted by the Japanese people."

He expressed hope his visit will "prepare the way for a new era of friendly relations between Japan and the United States."

Mentioning "Cooperation With free nations" as "the cornerstone of our foreign policy," Kishi said it is "imperative for us to further strengthen our bonds of friendship and understanding with the United States and firmly establish our relations on a basis of mutual trust and confidence."

Kishi intends to ask American approval of a bigger Japanese economic role in non-Communist Asia and a more equal voice in American decisions affecting Japan.

Dempsey Hears Graham

NEW YORK, June 16 (AP)—Former heavyweight boxing Champion Jack Dempsey went to Madison Square Garden tonight—but not to see a prize fight. He and a party of friends were there to hear evangelist Billy Graham speak at Heaven.

Graham, who rarely introduces any celebrity in his audiences made an exception in Dempsey's case because he was a sports figure and the Garden ordinarily is associated with athletic events.

The ex-champ got a polite ovation from the sedate audience of 16,000—a sharp contrast to the tumultuous receptions he received from fight crowds in his heyday as the Manassa Mauler.

Graham, in his sermon, said belief in immortality of the soul was instinctive in man long before the time of Christ. Man made provisions for life beyond the grave, he said.

FREDERICK, Md., June 16 (AP)—Episcopalians from five states and the District of Columbia gathered here tonight to open their week-long annual conference.

Haiti Mobs Stage Riot

Protest Rages Against Ouster Of President

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, June 16 (AP)—Angry mobs—looting, burning and stoning in protest against ouster of Provisional President Daniel Fignole—turned this capital into a fiery jungle last night and early today.

Police and troops retaliated with deadly gunfire, ranging in the wild night through blacked-out Port au Prince slums where all street lights were broken. They sprayed raging and wailing Fignole partisans with sub-machine gun fire, killing 50 to 150 or perhaps more in the effort to restore order.

Police, hospital and medical sources set the casualty figure at more than 250—at least 50 killed and more than 200 wounded.

Rounded Up

About 1,000 Haitians were rounded up and sent to the already overflowing prisons. The army said it is in control of the situation.

U.S. Ambassador Gerald Drew said he has kept in touch with U.S. forces in the general area but that there has been no indication of anti-foreign sentiment which would necessitate evacuating Americans.

Peasants and workers were threatening another general strike tomorrow. Among them are the 1,200 employees of the Haitian-American Sugar Co.

Brig. Gen. Antonio Kebreau, head of the three-man military junta which is trying to rule this country as its sixth provisional regime in six months, told a news conference at noon his army is in control of the situation throughout the nation and would smash all disorders.

The outbreak of violence was touched off by persistent rumors that Fignole, idol of the Port au Prince crowds, had been executed. The crowds either had not heard, or did not believe, the news that Fignole actually was in New York. He reached there yesterday, an exile.

It was Kebreau who called Port au Prince a jungle. He told reporters the description occurred to him because of the weird walling and cries of Fignole supporters huddled in ramshackle huts in the slums near the port area in total darkness. Sub-machine gunners fired at the tops of the houses to put an end to stoning of police vans and to hamper Fignole partisans rushing out to attack army and police patrols.

No Question

Kebreau said there is no question of Fignole being permitted to return to Haiti. Fignole's partisans, informed by all radio stations here of his arrival in New York in morning broadcasts, remained bitter.

Police rounded up dozens of Fignole partisans today and jammed them into the overflowing national penitentiary and temporary jails.

The Fignole mobs set fire to eight buildings before they were stopped. Among them were the Roman Catholic sisters School of Perpetual Secours, a gasoline station and an unfinished slaughterhouse. The crowds stoned the Oloffson Hotel near the heart of Port au Prince. A handful of North American tourists was staying there but no one was injured.

Violence spread also to other sections of Haiti. Travelers from Haiti's chief city of the north, Cap-Haitien, reported shootings as police troops smashed angry demonstrations in market places.

Mentioning

Without mentioning Macmillan by name, Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell said in a speech prepared for a political rally here: "I am in favor of German reunification with genuinely free elections. I think we ought to be putting forward plans for this and for the greater freedom of the Eastern satellite states, too."

"But, I think it is quite wrong to hold up all-round disarmament until we get a political settlement of this kind."

"Those who talk like this are really hinting that we might still go to war to bring about frontier changes, that disarmament would prevent us from going to war and that therefore we should reject a disarmament agreement until we have forced the Russians to agree to the changes we want."

"This is a stupid, dangerous and absurd attitude."

Expect Legal Answer

MEXICO CITY, June 16 (AP)—Actress Ava Gardner's attorney said tonight Frank Sinatra's lawyers probably would file their answer to her divorce petition this week.

Truman Ready To Aim Shot

HARRISBURG, June 16 (AP)—Former President Harry Truman was reported today ready to aim a verbal potshot or two at the record of the Republican-controlled Pennsylvania Legislature.

Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman, said the former chief executive would deliver his attack at a $100-a-plate Democratic fund-raising dinner here Wednesday night.

Warding

"It will be evident when Mr. Truman is finished detailing this Republican record of callous disregard for the people of Pennsylvania that these Republican leaders are political throwbacks," said Barr in a statement.

Democrats are seeking to raise $400,000 from the dinner that also will feature the appearance of Gov. Leader and U.S. Sen. Joseph S. Clark.

Lightning Bolt Kills Three, Injures Same Number On Golf Course Near Scranton

SCRANTON, Pa., June 16 (AP)—Lightning struck a golfing foursome and two caddies on the Scranton Country Club course today, killing three men and injuring three others.

The lightning blast cracked down onto the 16th tee during a severe electrical storm. The golfers had taken refuge under a tree.

Killed were Dr. H. D. Birchard, a Scranton dentist, John Whitmore, a Scranton businessman; and Fred DeWilde, Clarks Summit, a partner in the Pine Brook Iron Works.

Injured were Christian Robinson, 49, principal of the North Scranton Junior High School; and two caddies—John Fabian, 47, of nearby Dickson City; and Joseph Marshalek, 40, of Throop.

State Hospital

The injured were taken to Scranton State Hospital where they were described as in "guarded" condition.

The Scranton County Club is located about five miles north of Scranton in Clarks Summit.

A number of doctors were on the golf course and in the clubhouse when the lightning struck. They rushed to aid the victims.

One witness said the lightning bolt seemed to strike the ground near its golfers, rather than the tree, then bounced to the point where the golfers were huddled under the tree.

The golf course was jammed with players on this hot Sunday afternoon.

Carl Miller, in charge of the Clarks Summit fire department rescue squad, said the three victims suffered second degree burns.

"They were all wearing glasses and when we got there the frames were red hot and even melted," Miller said. "Mr. Whitmore and Mr. DeWilde were wearing spikes. Holes were burned in their socks. Mr. Birchard had rubber soles, but his heels were burned."

"Those were the only signs of burns you could see," he added. "The tree showed no marks at all."

Miller said a dozen doctors came to the scene almost immediately. He said they told him the three died instantly.

Cantor Named 'Father Of Year'

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16 (AP)—Eddie Cantor, honored tonight as "father of the year" at a hotel dinner, passed out this advice:

"Every teen-ager should read the Bible. They forget the Ten Commandments and the most important one: 'Honor thy father and thy mother.' Kids should not learn from each other. They should learn from their parents."

Lafayette Trustees Accept Resignation Of Hutchison As President By Unanimous Vote

EASTON, June 16 (AP)—Dr. Ralph T. Hutchison has resigned as president of Lafayette College.

Dr. Hutchison offered the resignation to the board of trustees yesterday and it was accepted unanimously.

Lloyd M. Felmy, president of the board, said the trustees voted to make the resignation effective "no later than Sept. 1, 1958."

Felmy, of Glen Ridge, N. J., and editor of the Newark, N. J., News, said Dr. Hutchison's offer to resign was contained in a memorandum submitted to the board at a special meeting. Felmy said Dr. Hutchison's memo also suggested changes in the office of the presidency of the college.

Minister

Dr. Hutchison, a Presbyterian minister, has been president of Lafayette since 1945. Before that, he was president of Washington and Jefferson College, Washington, Pa., for 14 years.

The resigning president had no immediate statement, but he said he would comment further in the near future.

Mercury Climbs To 97 Degrees In Stroudsburg

THE HOTTEST June 16 on record...

Excuse us, please, while we yawn. It's just too hot to write about the weather—especially when you can't change it.

Like we were saying: The weatherman said it was the hottest June 16 on record in Stroudsburg.

The mercury climbed to a high of 97 degrees—just three degrees below the Philadelphia high—at 2 p.m., according to Weather Observer William Hagerty.

Scattered thunder showers brought the temperatures down 20 from 97 to 81 within 45 minutes, Hagerty said. But there was little relief.

Remains High

The Penn-Stroud thermometer still registered 81 degrees at 11 last night. The low for the day was 61.

Hagerty also reported a high of 96 in Stroudsburg on Saturday, and a low of 64. After scattered showers, the mercury dropped 27 degrees in a half-hour on Saturday.

Meanwhile, at Mount Pocono, Weather Observer Harry Greene reported a Saturday high of 87, and a high of 91 for yesterday.

Saturday's thunderstorms brought the temperature down 20 degrees. But it rose soon afterwards.

Greene noted that a total of one inch of rain fell in Mount Pocono on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The relative humidity was reportedly "very high"—about 55, while the barometric pressure was steady and above normal.

The enervating heat appeared to keep many Sunday motorists at home. However, recreational and picnic areas attracted thousands.

Mount Pocono State Police said that Tobyhanna State Park was filled to absolute capacity.

Heat Wave Bakes All Pennsylvania

By The Associated Press

A heat wave baked Pennsylvania for the fifth consecutive day yesterday, pushing the temperature as high as 100 in Philadelphia and into the 90's in other areas.

The 100-degree reading in Philadelphia was a record for the date. The previous high for June 15 was 96, set 44 years ago. It was the hottest day in Philadelphia since Aug. 6, 1955 when the temperature also was 100.

No break in the heat wave was seen for today. The weather man predicted temperatures in the 90's for the sixth consecutive day.

Afternoon and early evening thunderstorms provided some measure of relief from yesterday's scorcher.

Damage

Lightning caused minor damage in some areas.

In Pittsburgh, rain halted the Pirates-Cubs game for 5 minutes. The temperature there had soared into the 90's.

Other high temperatures throughout the state:

Harrisburg 94, Wilkes-Barre 90, Brookville 90, Allentown 86, Philadelphia 86, Erie 82.

Twenty Killed In Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon, June 16 (AP)—More than 20 persons were killed and 30 wounded today in a churchyard gun battle between backers of two rival candidates for Lebanon's Parliament.

Violence erupted at a Maronite Christian church in the north Lebanese village of Miziara where elections will be held June 30.

Certificates Presented At Training Class

CERTIFICATES for proficiency in dining room service were given to 19 students who were attending the Temple University-sponsored Waiter and Waitress training class at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College during the past week. Under the guidance of Norbert Seimes, a faculty member of the Philadelphia school, the students were guided through their paces for four two-hour sessions at Oakes Hall. The program is under the co-sponsorship of Temple and the University State Employment Service. The local men who assist in the organization are Dr. Frank Maguire and John P. Dougherty, East Stroudsburg, both of the State Employment Service.

With the cooperation of ESSTC president Dr. Leroy Koehler, the facilities of the school cafeteria were utilized in order to further the experience of the would-be waiters. Due to the popular demand, the class will be run during the coming week from Monday through Thursday nights beginning at 7:30 p.m., utilizing Oakes Hall class room. The course has met with the approval of restaurant and resort owners, who often send their employees to attend these meetings and laboratory sessions. There is no charge, nor is there a final examination, the certificate being awarded solely on the basis of participation.

Sunday School Plans For Last Meeting

'Goodness' Key In Speech By Board Official

"TREMENDOUS" good will ensue as mankind awakens progressively to man's real responsibility, capability, and heritage" James Watt of Washington, D. C., told an audience here yesterday. "The certainty of lasting peace, health, and abundance is gained through spiritual perception of the goodness of God, and of His creation including man," Watt declared. A member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Watt spoke in Zion Evangelical Reformed Church, 16 N. 8th St., Stroudsburg, at the invitation of First Church of Christ Scientist. He was introduced by Mrs. Helen DePue, Second Reader. Speaking on "Christian Science: The Science of Demonstrable Good," Watt said that man's innate desire for good, together with the aggregate philanthropy of individuals, organizations, and nations has undoubtedly brought humanity, comfort and relief. "But the question, recognized or unconsciously entertained in the hearts of men, is how to heal the sick, supply the needy, and end war with certainty and finality," he declared. "God's infinite goodness is being proved practical in human affairs and available to all," he affirmed. He emphasized that "peace and healing will come to the world, in the measure that mankind learns to put good will toward men into practice from the basis of spiritual understanding."

"The needs of the world, he said, would have been met long ago if those endeavoring to supply them had not believed that the discordant situations, sickness, war, disaster, and limitations were realities, Watt stated.

Community Club Plans Fashion Show

MOUNTAINHOME — Barrett Community Club held its monthly meeting at the Barrett Branch YMCA with Janete Brush presiding. Mr. and Mrs. John Caliguieri have returned from a trip to Kennet Square where they visited the parents of Mrs. Caliguieri, Mr. and Mrs. John Biondi, and also attended her class reunion.
Mr. and Mrs. John Phillips and daughter, Denise, Scranton, visited Mr. and Mrs. John Sutton.

CONSTIPATED?
New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bleed or gripe
Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "stiff" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.
To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to 5-T-R-A-S-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge.
And, of all laxatives, only COLONIAID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONIAID's great moisture-

PP&L Agrees On Wage Adjustments

FOLLOWING a series of collective bargaining conferences terminated Thursday, agreement was reached between Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. and the Employees Independent Assn., certified bargaining agent for nearly 90 percent of the company's non-supervisory employees, on general salary and wage adjustments and various other items. Major provisions under the new agreement include a wage and salary increase, effective June 10, which begins five cents per hour and moves up to 15 cents per hour for employees of higher skills. Revisions The agreement also provides for a revision of the group life insurance program, the group Blue Cross-Blue Shield program, and the company's retirement plan. Also provided for are increased vacations for employees having 25 years or more of service and some 12 other items, largely affecting equalization of working practices and procedures and other details. The term of the newly-negotiated contract is from June 10, 1957 through June 7, 1959, with provisions for reopening with respect to wages only after June 9, 1958. The union officials are scheduled to submit the contract to their membership ratification within the next several days.

To the Public—Our Customers and Friends Everywhere
46 States, U.S.A.
By Dear Ladies and Gentlemen,
Many of you extended congratulations to us upon the occasion of our 100th Anniversary. You sent your good wishes by mail and by wire. Your good wishes, in many instances, arrived in the forms of flowers and other beautiful gifts. Hundreds of you visited the bank last week and delivered your good wishes in person. The whole thing was rather overwhelming.
On behalf of our Board of Directors, our Officers and Employees I sincerely thank each and every one of you. Your response in helping us to celebrate our 100th Anniversary has made us extremely happy.
I mean this letter to convey more than our appreciation—it is also meant to convey the Bank's assurance that it will do its utmost, both now and in the years to come, to provide you with the best in modern, efficient and friendly banking and trust service.
Sincerely yours,
F. L. Stackhouse

New Pleasant Valley School Jointure Engages Architects

Firm To Draw Plans For New Building

BRODHEADSVILLE — Officials of Pleasant Valley Joint School District said over the weekend that they have engaged an architect's firm to work on plans for a proposed new junior-senior high school.

Pleasant Valley is made up of four West End districts—Chestnut-hill, Polk, Eldred and Ross Townships. The jointure's spokesman said this weekend that it has hired Wolf and Hahn, Allentown, to study needs for the potential school. It would cost about $800,000 a spokesman said.

The jointure has also indicated that it intends to enter into a municipal loan through Ira Haupt and Co., New York City, who would handle a bond issue, with Rhoads, Simon and Reader, Harrisburg, as bonding counselors, according to board members.

Outline

An outline of the joint board's proposal for a new school was given out by John C. Mills, principal, who said that the building would be designed to house 550 pupils. Mills said that 1957-58 enrollment in junior-senior high in the district would be about 450 but the district wants to look ahead, he said. Expected completion date for the new building would be late 1959, Mills said.

Besides the usual class rooms, the structure is also supposed to include rooms for science, homemaking, industrial arts, vocational agriculture and music. If there is enough money left over, Mills indicated, the building may also include an auditorium and gymnasium, library and health office.

Clyde Dietrich is chairman of the site committee. Others working with him are Jerome A. Blakeslee, Charles A. Frantz, LeRoy Hinton, and Clayton Snyder. Authority members who have been appointed are Stanley Rader and Dr. Robert Arner, Chestnut-hill; Rev. Robert Booth and Robert Anderson, Ross township.

Swimming Lessons Today

SWIMMING lessons begin this morning at Stroudsburg Playground.

Lessons for intermediates, advanced, junior lifesaving and diving will be held at 10 a.m. Monday through Friday beginning today at the pool, according to Samuel O. Wells, playground director.

Beginners' lessons will also begin today at 11 a.m. and will be held daily at that time, Monday through Friday, Wells said.

Stroud Union District To Open 'Summer School' Today

STROUD UNION SCHOOL District's "Summer school" opens this morning at 9 in the Morey building with Miss Elizabeth Martin as teacher.

No grades beyond the eighth are included in the system. All children who are eligible for the Summer course have been notified, according to Alfred W. Munson and Roger A. Dunning, school officials in charge.

The school is open only to children who are residents of Stroud Union District or districts which have sent tuition pupils to Stroud Union in grades from kindergarten through eighth during the past year.

Persons having questions concerning the Summer school may secure more information from either the high school or Ramsey school buildings by telephone.

Tamiment Music Festival To Open On Thursday Night

TAMIMENT—During the past six years the annual Summer music festival Tamiment-in-the-Poconos has gradually become one of America's cultural mecca.

Devoted almost entirely to chamber music, the festival has brought great recognition to its own directors and to the Pocono Mountains.

This year the festival will be greatly expanded to include the talents of Rose Bampton, internationally-known operatic star and other famed artists. Top-starred for the sixth season will be the Curtis String Quartet and the New Chamber Orchestra of Philadelphia.

Congress Should Press Further Cuts

Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire has made an intensive study of the complex federal budget to see how it may be cut "without in any way weakening our defense posture or without disrupting vital services."

His program calls for reducing the administration's 71.8 billion dollar budget by a minimum of 3.3 billion. Here, in brief summary, is how he would go about that.

First of all, he points out that a percentage cut across the board, as some have advocated, is impossible because "11.9 billion dollars are in the nature of sacred obligations which must be met regardless of anything." These include interest on the public debt, and various pension, retirement and other fixed obligations.

In the area of appropriations for such items as the Commodity Credit Corp., the agricultural conservation program and grants to the states, he feels that 500 million dollars can be cut.

Next he recommends that the public works program be cut back to the 1956 level of spending, which would save 575 million dollars without affecting the federal highway or the federal airway programs. The defense budget—proposed at 38 billion dollars by the President—is by far the biggest of all. Senator Bridges thinks that a fairly modest cut should be made here—750 million initially, and perhaps rising to one billion later.

He points out that if the foreign aid budget is reduced by the same percentage that has been applied to requests during the last four years, the 1958 saving will be 950 million dollars. He also feels that an additional 250 million can now be pared without damage.

Finally, he is confident—from 21 years experience on the Appropriations Committee—that at least 300 million can be saved in miscellaneous cuts. The Senate has passed a 3.6 billion dollar authorization bill for foreign aid, but economy forces promise a fight to slash this figure when the appropriations bill comes up for a vote.

Actual budget cuts now total around two and one-half billion dollars, well on the way toward Senator Bridges' goal of 3.3 billion. Let's hope Congress hews close to the economy line when it takes up the remaining appropriation measures. As the senator puts it: "The secure future of this nation demands it."

Summer Is Time To Curb Litterbugs

The "good old summertime," which arrives officially Friday at 11:21 a.m., EST, has many charms and advantages. They have been adequately extolled in song and story, but there are also some drawbacks. To name one, streets and highways are likely to be even more disgustingly littered than at other times.

Children are out of school. Families take disposable containers on picnics. Many ice cream cones, candy bars and boxes of popcorn are consumed, or partly consumed.

Perhaps warm weather robs people of sufficient energy to carry their trash as far as the nearest receptacle. Anyway, it drops from their nerveless fingers to the pavement, where it's an eyesore until some one else picks it up or sweeps it up.

In the past there has been a tendency for trash, like picnic materials, to blow out of the open windows of autos. This is less likely to happen now, because new state laws have been providing heavy fines for persons who permit this thing to happen. There have been some arrests.

We're convinced, though, it will take more than a few arrests to make people remember to be neat.

American Securities Held In Foreign Lands Serious Matter, Can Affect U. S. Defense

The Securities Exchange Act was passed to prevent the unscrupulous conduct which brought on the 1929 stock market failure from ever happening again. It may have been too great an ambition, as clever minds will always find a way to get around a law and they can always hire lawyers and accountants to aid and abet them.

The Securities and Exchange Commission, generally referred to as SEC, does not have the appropriations or staff to police the entire business world and only catches up with transactions that have become notorious. If the public is swindled there is really little to do about it.

In a letter to Senator James O. Eastland, J. Sinclair Armstrong, who in April headed SEC but is now in a more comfortable spot in the Navy, wrote:

"Swiss trusts and similar financial institutions and devices have created a serious problem for the Commission in the enforcement of a number of the provisions of the Securities Act of 1933 and the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The problem arises from the fact that, as you realize, under the laws and customs of Switzerland, Swiss banks and similar institutions do not disclose the names of the persons for whom they are acting."

"Similar problems arise in connection with American securities held in the names of banks, brokers, or other institutions in other foreign countries, since such institutions are not subject to the jurisdiction of this Commission and there is no way in which we can require them to disclose the identities of their principals if they do not choose to, or are under instructions from their principals not to do so."

But the fact is that thousands of dollars a day are deposited in American banks to be transferred immediately to numbered accounts in Switzerland or elsewhere. The accumulation was, until investigation proved it untrue, that the depositor left his name and address.

But in has been established that he may leave a fictitious name and address. Actually, the depositor ceases to exist the moment he deposits the money in a perfectly reputable bank in any American city to be transferred to a numbered account in Switzerland or elsewhere. The American bank transfers the money.

The alien bank knows who X88 is and has no interest in the fictitious name of the depositor. Thus, a tax evasion may be practiced and all trace of the evader has been removed. Clever! Of course, it is clever. This transaction involves three minds—the owner of the money, a lawyer, and an accountant. But there is no evidence and there is not any agency of government which has any means to discover what has happened and how much money is being siphoned out of the United States and for what reason.

Armstrong said: "... Inability to ascertain the identity of the beneficial owners of securities of American corporations held by various foreign financial institutions makes it difficult, in some cases, to determine whether or not persons in fact subject to the requirements of Section 16 (a) are complying with these requirements."

Section 16 (a) is important because it means that the beneficial owner of more than 10 per cent of any class of any equity security sold in any American exchange and every officer and director of the issuer of such a security must file a record of his holding. But suppose the holding is by a Swiss Bank or an anonymous personage in Europe or Nassau or Canada, how does the law apply? In a word, a whole set of devices has been developed, the object of which is to violate the law without penalty. And the devices all work well.

In fact, studies show that about 10 per cent of the shares of publicly held corporations in the United States are registered in the names of nominees, that an additional 10 per cent are registered in the names of brokers and dealers, and about 15 per cent more are held in the names of fiduciaries which are impersonal institutions.

So who are the beneficial owners? In this 35 per cent may rest the control of a public company. But who are they? And are they the same individual or group hiding behind a fictitious device?

This is a very serious matter, as it can affect the national defense and it may influence depressed conditions during an inflationary period.

Good Evening, Ladies!

Silly Segment Of Female Population Follows Fad

Since, in matters of love and sex I'm strictly on the side of the majority, that overwhelming mass of people composed of those who accept it as a simple fact of life and don't go haywire over it. I'm glad to go along with a lady from Ohio who is deploring the cult of the bust. She thinks a lot of women are making fools of themselves.

Well, I've seen them come and go, aided and abetted by the courtesiers, the Hollywood press agents and the soiled doves of cafe society, and I've always been amazed to see so many women with a firm claim to decency fall into line. After all, there is no disguising the fact that one has done so, in most instances.

I was glad, therefore, to read that Lauren Bacall, a gal who generally has her feet on the ground, considers the 40-inch bustline to be a deformity. Funny, I've been thinking that myself and wondering when the, say, 50-inch would show up from some southern European movie center and set our sheep-women agog. With my eyesight, I won't be able to tell whether a woman approaches, or an Elm St. bus. I may get arrested for trying to flag one.

While the vast majority of women go along with what they have and take the attitude that this is it, and if you don't like it it's just too bad, others let the matter give them a psychic trauma. The type that happens to be in temporary style is happy, while those who can't make the fashion grade are unhappy and seek remedies, no matter how obvious.

Thus, a gal around this office who, just a few months ago, couldn't cast a shadow at noon, now goes around looking like an overloaded burro. Since she has her normal growth, I'm sure she knows how she did it.

When Chests Were Flat There was a time, not so long ago, when a girl with a visible bust was likely to consider herself a social outcast. It was the period of the boyish figure and a lot of women were striving to look like a beardless high school sophomore and in some cases you couldn't tell the boys from the girls. The under-developed girls who had carried their fate as a secret sorrow, resorting to deception and afraid the awful truth would come out and blast their love lives, then strutted around telling practically everybody.

Having once had a set of broken ribs and lived for weeks inside adhesive surgical wrappings, I have an idea of what some stupid women went through at that time, frequently to small avail. They had the same trouble any woman has who seeks to disguise bulges in the wrong places—you can't eliminate them, you can only shift them; and there they are.

Now, some Hollywood exhibitionist, whose name fortunately escapes me at the moment, is trying to start something else. She's wearing gowns high in front and so low in the rear that she looks like a Raphael nymph descending the stairs backward. It is not well for anyone to assume that this will be confined to this particular person and die out after she decides the show has been seen by everyone who counts. The danger is very real that it will spread in one degree or another to other circles where heretofore the spine and lumbar region have been considered off limits.

However, I can't become too disturbed by all this, realizing that it is confined to the silly segment of the female population, which is small but spectacular, which follows fads set largely by women they wouldn't associate with and who have the cock-eyed idea that an anatomical preview is the only device that can attract a man.

White explorers who live for a while among the shirtless females of primitive tribes always long to get back to civilization where women cover themselves. I think the American male is getting a little sick of the show around here.

Try and Stop Me

The late Wilson Mizner was a wonderful storyteller, with no particular regard for the truth. Coming back from the Yukon gold rush—owning, alas, precious little of the gold himself—Mizner read in a Chicago paper that turkeys were in short supply that year and were bound to bring fifty cents a pound by Thanksgiving Day.

So, avowed Mizner, he bought five hundred baby turkeys from an Oregon farmer for a dime apiece, invested twenty dollars more in feed, and started driving them across country on foot. He figured he'd reach the Windy City in ten weeks flat—just in time for the holiday market and fortune. "I got the turkeys clear through to Chicago, too," he mourned, "but with the stockyards in sight, and a flock of five hundred nicely fattened fowl bound to net me five bucks apiece, cruel Fate stepped in. "The turkeys developed sore feet and flew away."

U. S. Reaffirms Rule Over Ryukyu Islands

Washington, June 16—Premier Nobusuke Kishi is in for quite a surprise when he arrives here on Wednesday.

The Japanese leader will learn the news that one of the major items on his agenda has already been officially decided.

That was done on June 5, when President Eisenhower quietly signed an executive order reaffirming U. S. rule over the strategic Ryukyu Islands—largest and most important of which is Okinawa, with key Army, Navy and Air Force bases.

One of the announced main purposes of Kishi's visit is to seek the restoration of some measure of Japanese control over the Ryukyus, as a step toward eventual resumption of full authority. But exactly two weeks prior to the day the Japanese Premier is due here, the door was firmly shut on this issue.

This unpublicized event also marked a signal victory for the Defense Department over the State Department.

The backstage battle between these two great government agencies over this question was, in some respects, remarkably similar to the tangle of snafus and muds that characterized the handling of the stormy Girard case.

The full story of this latest boggle is still not known. But the following has been ascertained by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which is looking into the matter:

What It's About—Both State and Defense are opposed to turning the Ryukyus back to Japan. They are in complete agreement on the basic issue that the U. S. should continue to rule this strategically important island chain. Where the two Departments split was over the time and manner in which this policy should be proclaimed.

State wanted nothing done until after Kishi's visit. It was pointed out that this matter was on his announced agenda; that he had been advised President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles would discuss it with him; and that it was politically very important to Kishi to do that.

Pentagon officials saw no reason for delay. They urged the executive order, reaffirming American control over the Ryukyus, be issued before Kishi arrived, contending that would not prevent his discussing the subject. In the midst of this backstage controversy, the Formosa riots erupted. That jolting incident apparently clinched it for the military.

Shortly thereafter, the President signed the executive order. This edict is predicated on the Japanese peace treaty, which Secretary of State Dulles negotiated in 1952, as a special ambassador in the Truman Administration. The treaty states that pending the establishment of United Nations trusteeship over the Ryukyus. "The U. S. will have the right to exercise all powers of administration, legislation and jurisdiction over the territory and inhabitants of these islands, including their territorial waters."

The executive order vests administrative authority over the islands in the Defense Department. Secretary Wilson has delegated that to the Army.

The Ryukyu chain, southeast of Japan, is 775 miles long and consists of 140 islands. Okinawa is 850 miles from Tokyo. Total population on the Ryukyus is 800,000, of which 675,000 are on Okinawa. The people elect their own legislature. Certain of its activities are subject to U. S. review.

The U. S. has spent more than $500,000,000 on the Okinawa bases. The Army wants to erect one of its new "package" atomic power plants there. But Secretary Wilson rejected that proposal "for the present."

Disastrous—Senator J. William Fulbright (D., Ark.), author of the world-renowned foreign scholarship program, has come to a harsh decision regarding the Defense Department.

He is no longer going to trust its statistics.

The one-time university president and chairman of the Senate Banking Committee reached that critical decision after attending two meetings at which the Defense Department submitted different totals on the number of U. S. bases abroad.

The first session, at a White House briefing on the embattled foreign aid bill, Fulbright and other senators were shown a list of 175 of these bases. The second meeting, at the Foreign Relations Committee, another chart was produced with 250 military bases.

Spotting this wide discrepancy, Fulbright sought an explanation from Mansfield Sprague, assistant of Defense Secretary Wilson.

"The other day, at the White House," said Fulbright, "there were 175 bases on the chart you showed us. Now you come up with a list of 250 bases. That is building them pretty fast, isn't it?"

"We decided we could indicate there were that many more bases at this meeting," explained Sprague.

"I am sure that is very kind of you," replied Fulbright leily, "particularly in view of the fact that the President told us nothing would be held back from us at the White House meeting. How do you explain that?"

The Defense official couldn't. He shook his head, and said nothing.

In "Island in the Sun," is aware that destiny develops strange and compelling dramas. ... Some years ago Belafonte studied at a dramatic school, utilizing the GI Bill of Rights. But when he started making the rounds of casting offices, he discovered that acting jobs were scarce. Unable to obtain work as an actor, he secured a $48-a-week job in the Garment District. There he met a friend who launched his singing career.

So, as a result of his failure as an actor, he became a successful singer. And his singing success enabled him to gain acting plums.

Peggy Hopkins Joyce had beauty, jewels, furs and money. She was poor in love, tranquility and happiness. During the rocketing 20s, she flashed across the Broadway horizon, a lovely pinwheel who added sparks to the "Ziegfeld Follies" and other shows. She collected husbands and publicity and became an international temptress. She married 6 men and was loved by many more. Nevertheless, love and marriage made her cynical. She once cracked: "The more I learn about men, the less I know about men."

It was only at the end that she found that which makes everything worthwhile. Happiness—with her last husband.

Milford Lions Have Spring Dinner Dance

Dingman's Ferry—About 130 members, their wives and friends of the Milford Lions Club gathered at the Laurel Villa Casino Milford, on June 8 for the Lions' annual Spring dinner-dance.

Lion President Robert Kayton was toastmaster. He introduced the Lions' guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hicks of Easton, Hicks, who is District Governor of District 14K, Lions International, stuck to the "no speech" rule and simply expressed his pleasure in being present at the Milford group's annual affair.

Music for the dancing which followed the dinner was provided by Frank Calabria's orchestra, from Port Jervis. They were assisted in their presentations by songstress, Rosemarie.

The dance featured a number of special events for which prizes were awarded.

One of the Lions' Club's major projects is the presentation of a $100 scholarship to a deserving senior graduating from the Delaware Valley Joint High School. This year's winner was William Oelkers of Shohola. The Scholarship Fund Prize was won by Al Steiner, long-time secretary-treasurer of the Lions Club.

Arrangements were made by Leonard Mattar, chairman, Jack Thornton, Calvin Rosencrance and Howard Bruenholz.

Carnival Committees Of Fire Co. Aux.

BELL, BELLES AND THE 40 at 8—ringing in the full-scale camping season at Girl Scout's Camp Lloyd Treble is the new bell, dedicated this weekend at the Camporee. The bell, the gift of the 40 at 8, American Legion, is being rung by Senior Scout Susan Scharf. Looking on are Mrs. Marion Kinner and Mrs. Arlene Scharf of the camp committee and Mrs. Lillian Acker, public relations chairman. Standing in the back are the men from the 40 at 8 who helped with the installation, left to right, Melvin McElwain, conductor; Russel Philman, chaplain; Jim Koppenhaver, treasurer, Witt Price, Elmer Heffer, commander, and Calvin Lockard.

County-Wide Camporee For 166 Scouts At Camp Treble

The woods were full of them—as 166 Girl Scouts joined in the Camporee at Camp Lloyd Treble this past weekend. Despite the heat wave and the thunder showers they came back enthusiastic over their experiences at the first county-wide camporee.

Each unit had been working for months in preparation, making their cooking equipment, trying out recipes, taking practice cook-outs and the months of preparation paid off. Utilizing 40 of their own tents and a number borrowed from the local National Guard, each unit began to set up their own campsites on Friday morning. The camps were scattered all over the 14-acre tract on the top of Mosler's Knob.

Dominating the Camporee was the sound of bells. The dedication of the big bell, presented by the local 40 at 8 of the American Legion, was a feature of Friday afternoon. The bell proved its worth even before the dedication by calling in all units from all over the camp grounds with continuous tolling on Friday afternoon.

As the units converged on the lodge they came singing "Girl Scouts Together." A history of the bell from the time it sounded the way for a steam locomotive on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, through its colorful history on the parade locomotive of the local 40 at 8, was read by Scout Catherine Smith.

The bell also proved its value as a musical instrument when ringing softly it furnished the accompaniment for the Girl Scout Song, "White Coral Bells." The lowering of the colors by an honor guard of Scouts completed the dedication.

A thunder storm cancelled the campfire on Friday night, but each unit held its own campfire program. The camporee broke up on Saturday afternoon.

The day camping season will soon be under way at the camp with Intermediate Week opening on June 24 to be followed by three Brownie weeks at the camp. The improvements to the camp site were given a trial run at the camporee and all of them approved by the campers. Of special value was the new veranda at the lodge hall.

Lehigh Students Touring West

Dan Hamblin of Swiftwater, and Ned Shafer of Shamokin, both juniors at Lehigh University, are enjoying a cross-country motor trip, which will take them to the west coast and on into Lake Louise in Canada. The boys left May 31, at the close of the spring semester, after attending the Alumni Day Dinner, where the Glee Club of which both are members sang.

Enroute they will visit friends in Pittsburgh, Utah, Hollywood and Redding, Cal. and Michigan, also tour Government buildings and National Parks. The trip will take them into 25 states, British Columbia, Alberta and Ontario and will cover a total of 8600 miles. They plan to return early in July.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

A special virtue seemed to impart itself to those who went to church yesterday morning—particularly the fathers whose stiff white collars and suits must have been the equivalent of the hair shirt of the middle ages.

However my own sense of virtue wasn't strong enough to last through an afternoon of work at the office which seems to attract heat as a light attracts bugs and with the same effect.

I kept telling myself that heat, after all, is a relative thing. The sun is as hot on Main Street, but playing golf is fun and lugging groceries isn't. It was hot at Camp Treble on Friday and Saturday and cooking over an open fire didn't make it any cooler but the Girl Scouts didn't mind—being both hungry and happy.

However, when even philosophical thoughts fail you can always lick this heat thing by being so hot and so uncomfortable that your natty complex will carry you through—so you can just sneak off and have supper at the river where somebody's gold fish, grown to monstrous proportions glints and gleams through the clear water below, and the breeze blows cool up the river, and the smell of good, hot clover is as tonic as a long, cold drink!

Of course, it feels hotter than ever when you come back, but the pressure of a deadline and your own guilty conscience can overcome even a heat wave.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

Meeting Verna Kohn (Dr. David's wife) in our accessories department, I am asked whether or not we've heard from Mr. Wyckoff, on his annual trip—this time into Canada—with the Boy and Girl Scouts. "I had only one card from Judy," she said, "mailed from Maine—her first day out. I imagine that's all she intended to send, because she told us to watch the newspapers." Oh, well, who can be bothered thinking of cards and letters when one is roughing it in the wilds? And anyway what can one say on a card, when one's head is so crammed with excitement, except "wish you were here" (which the writer probably doesn't at all)? . . . Flopover bags continue to make a big fashion news for afternoon and evening wear, and Bea Gorgy has an eye-catching selection. Those of pure silk, in beautiful figures, are priced at $5.00, and there is one in straw at the same price. Bea also has a number of print clutch bags that are most attractive at 2.99. A thrifty shopper can certainly "bag" some glamorous merchandise these days. . . . Bill Wyckoff is a busier-than-ever gentleman these days, and never did make it to our Wyckoff Shopper broadcast of last Thursday. He was in the store Friday, however, in animated conversation with our general manager, J. L. Kerlin. A thoroughly nice member of our store's First Family, we just don't see enough of him these days. . . . "Friendship is a Garden—the older, the better" is the thoughtful slogan on one of the "mural towels" sold at 69c in Hattie Waters' department. Pretty as a picture, the use for which they are actually intended, these gaily figured towels are stitched upon wooden rods with cords to suspend them from the wall. There's just one thing about Friendship that we are inclined to overlook—it is a garden that all too quickly goes to seed unless one works at it. It takes time, thought, and effort to be a friend—one doesn't let the weeds begin to strangle the flowers, or pull!—only the memory remains. . . . In my child's riddle book there's a question, "What is the biggest job of moving ever done?" The answer, older than the proverbial hills, is, of course, "Wheeling, W. Va." The Daily Record might take issue with this, however, for its pending big move to the new plant in South Stroudsburg promises to be an equally gigantic task. It has made a change on advertising deadlines—we're all in the act. . . . The big fad on towels used to be "Bliss" or "Her" inscriptions. Newest trend is "Boss" and "Slave"—but this could cause complications. As one man puts it, "Who says she isn't the boss, and who says I'm not the slave?"—all the facts point that way. . . . Whichever the case may be, our sets contain two bath towels and two wash cloths. The pink is embroidered in black, the green in green. Cute! . . . Cute too are the linen dish towels with Wedgwood figures selling at 1.00. There are three color combinations: White with moss green, white with pink, and white with Wedgwood blue. . . . One of the visitors to our store last Friday was a young woman wearing a smart cap, tartan plaid shorts, and a white blouse from the front of which dangled a big round tag boldly proclaiming "I Like Elvis." Jeeps, is HE still around? He's been awfully subdued lately, hasn't he? . . . Our girls' department has some wonderful buys right now on dresses, beginning at size 7. Some are of cotton, some have jersey trim, some have jackets, and at least one is of a beautiful blue velvet. Prices range from 1.99 to 8.99—drastic markdowns on dresses that could be worn now and during the school term ahead. The values are really too good to overlook. Come in and see! . . . Good news to hear that Agnes Hollister, of our Wyckoff credit department, is back at home after an operation, and will return to work in another two weeks or so. Seems to me she's had more than her share of illness lately. Anybody have a four leaf clover they could send her? . . . Which reminds me that I found a four-leaf clover on Monday evening when Bea Brink entertained 10 of her Wyckoff co-workers at a covered dish supper. So did Betty Frantz—but that is nothing new for her. She finds them ALL the time, but then she should—Betts is a nice girl. Mine really worked too—not an hour later I thrust my hand into the pocket of a coat I hadn't worn since last fall, and found fifty cents. (Not stupendous luck, of course, but a good beginning!) One thing our supper proved is that A. B. Wyckoff not only has some wonderful cooks on its payroll—it also has some mighty healthy appetites. And those freshly picked, sun-warm strawberries from Bea's strawberry patch—MMM, ambrosia!

Frigidaire Air Conditioning System Cools Entire House

A FRIGIDAIRE "SHEER LOOK" KITCHEN like this is even more enjoyable when you have Frigidaire's "full-time" air conditioning. Every room in your home will be pleasantly cool, free from summer dust, pollen and heavy humidity. You can see these Frigidaire "sheer look" units and find out more about "full-time" air conditioning at A. B. Wyckoff's electric shop.

Complete Line Handled By A. B. Wyckoff

IF YOU'VE got a home, A. B. Wyckoff has a Frigidaire full-time air conditioning system to cool it!

Wyckoff's handle a complete line of air-cooled or water-cooled models to fit every home, every budget. They can be easily installed in attic, utility closet, crawl space or basement.

Frigidaire full-home air conditioning cools, dehumidifies, filters out dirt, dust and pollen.

The monthly operating costs of full home central system air conditioning equipment during the cooling season averages just under one cent per square foot, according to a new national survey conducted by Frigidaire division of General Motors.

Byron C. Wagner, Frigidaire's air conditioning sales manager, who announced the survey results, pointed out that on this basis a central unit in today's popular 1,200-square foot house can be operated for less than $72 during an average six-month cooling season.

"Generally speaking this means that the entire house can be cooled for about $12 a month during the cooling season," Wagner explained.

Turning to the cost of equipping the house with a central system air conditioner, he advised homeowners to estimate the expenditure at between $6 to $10 for each square yard of floor space, or 67 cents to $1.10 per square foot.

Wagner went on to say that much of the "first cost" of the home air conditioning equipment actually can be written off in benefits and savings effected for the entire family over a 10-year period.

In this category, he mentioned increased valuation of the house, better health, economies in cleaning and redecorating, lower summer driving mileage for the family car and less expenditure for outside entertainment during the hot weather season.

"Translated into dollars and cents savings," he emphasized, "these benefits will pay a substantial return on the original investment made for air conditioning equipment."

The first passenger flight in history, not to be confused with the Wright Brothers' first airplane flight in 1903, took place on May 14, 1908. The latter flight was to test a plane for delivery to the U. S. government.

Has Answer To Question

REMEMBER how you felt last week, and how many times you were asked: "Hot enough for you?"

They're the best reasons in the world for buying air conditioning. You heat your home in the winter for both comfort and health; why not cool your home in the summer for the same reason.

Art Henning of the H. C. Archibald Co. right now is making it real easy for you to own and enjoy a General Electric room air conditioner.

If you buy now from Archibald's you not only get free installation, but "an exceptionally low price." Henning explained his company is closing out the General Electric room air conditioner line at special reduced prices.

Plan Awning Installation

JOSEPH G. DeRenzis & Son remind us now is the time to "exterior decorate" your home with the new Flexalum aluminum awnings.

DeRenzis & Sons, who are local distributors for Eagle-Picher aluminum storm enclosures, are also authorized Flexalum aluminum awning dealers.

Flexalum awnings will make your home cooler inside and smarter outside, and they improve the climate in and around your home with greatest efficiency.

At the same time they add beauty and smart styling. They're a wonderful aid to gracious, comfortable living the whole year 'round.

Here are just a few advantages which Flexalum aluminum awnings offer you:

They pull out warm air. They let in light. They keep out rain. They take abuse without denting.

Removing Paint Is Now As Easy As Applying It

FOR SEVERAL YEARS the paint industry has been making paint application increasingly easier.

Now the paint researchers have gone to the opposite extreme—they've made paint removal just as easy!

Latest word on that comes from James Detrick, manager of the Sherwin-Williams branch, 517 Main St., Stroudsburg. He reports development of a paint remover that literally "washes away old paint."

Explaining how the new product works, Detrick said: "After the remover has softened the paint, you need only wash the surface with a wet cloth to take off both the paint remover and the old paint."

The local businessman added that the new wash away paint remover works on all types of varnish, lacquer, shellac and paint, including latex paint.

"This versatility makes it useful for both interior and exterior paint removal," he pointed out. "Stripping old varnished or enameled furniture down to the bare wood becomes a quick and easy task. Floors and woodwork also respond readily to the paint remover's urging."

According to Detrick, the new paint remover has just as many uses outdoors. "Checked, cracked and blistered paint on the exterior of the home can now be removed without laborious wire brushing and sanding," he said. "Porch floors, too, can be relieved of rough, uneven coats of paint with a minimum of effort."

"Lawn furniture, trellises, window boxes—in fact, anything that needs repainting—can be prepared for a new and decorative coat of color in jig time."

"That applies to boats, too," Detrick commented. "Hours of hard work are eliminated as impatient skippers can spend more time sailing and less time getting ready for the fun."

HAROLD M. STIFF, your Atlantic Fuel Oil Distributor says: "Keep Those Tanks Full." You can get the longest life and the best performance from your oil burner by making sure that your fuel oil tank is filled at all times through the summer. Moisture formation in the fuel system is responsible for a number of "ills" suffered by oil burners when they're started in the fall. A partly filled tank allows condensation to form inside the tank. This can cause rust which penetrates your fuel tank causing leaks and also causing damage to the burner.

HAVE YOU CHECKED YOUR FUEL OIL LEVEL LATELY? Why not call 2873 and let Harold M. Stiff do the job for you? Their courteous, efficient service is well known throughout the county.

Dinner To Mark Opening Of Drive

BARRETT—A dinner at Monroeville Inn on June 26 will mark the beginning of the Barrett Welfare Fund Drive for this year. It was announced yesterday by Mrs. Thomas Larkin.

The kick-off dinner will feature Fran Shinn as the toastmaster, with the after-dinner speaker as yet unannounced.

Tickets — Mrs. Larkin, who is co-chairman of the drive, held the organization meeting in her home Thursday night.

Tickets for the festivities may be obtained from her or from Harold Kreck, Joseph Vogt, Charles Geissinger, Mrs. Lena Swaine, or Mrs. Wayne Price. The dinner will be given by Mr. and Mrs. Geissinger.

President Backs Freer Trade

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP) — President Eisenhower said today there must be freer trade for countries like Great Britain and Japan "if they are to make a living."

"We don't want the Communists to get a lot of strategic goods in the world," the President added. At the same time, he said, the welfare of America's smaller industrial allies must be taken into account.

J. A. Miller To Present Reading

"EVERY BIRD MUST FLY" — a dramatic reading — will highlight Jeanette A. Miller's bid to capture the laurels in tomorrow night's Miss Pocono Mountains pageant.

Jeanette, a student at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, is the one non-local product among the eight entries. She lives in Glenside, Pa., and was graduated from Abington High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Miller.

Plans — Her plans indicate that Jeanette will teach and continue to study dramatics. She has had specialized training in music and dancing in addition to theatrics. Her hobbies include swimming, tennis, and chorus.

A participant in the Shawnee Inn "Jinx Falkenberg" Contest in 1954, Miss Miller is an attractive brunette who weighs 110 pounds and measures 5-2½, 36-24-35.

Linda Dennis Named Officer

LINDA DENNIS, Cherry Valley, has been elected secretary of the sub-region (D-3) of the Pennsylvania Future Homemakers of America.

Miss Dennis was named to the high post at the annual regional conference held at Pennsylvania State University this week.

Delegate — Official Stroudsburg High School delegate to the conference was Junetta Hay, Chipperfield Drive, Stroud Township.

Stroudsburg's entertainment contribution to the conference was a "jug band." Members of that group were Cheryl Van Why, Joan Blackford, Marcia Rasely, Linda Dennis, Sandra Fisher and Junetta Hay. Miss Mary E. Hall, head of homemaking in the Stroud Union High School, accompanied the group on the trip to the three-day conference.

Mayer New U.S. Open King; Whips Middlecoff In Runoff

TOLEDO, June 16 (AP)—Young Dick Mayer wiped out the "nightmare of Baltusrol" today and won the National Open Golf Championship by a record seven strokes in a scattershot 19-hole playoff with two-time winner Cary Middlecoff.

The handsome, 34-year-old journeyman pro from St. Petersburg, Fla., ice cool in a white cap, captured the 57th open by shooting the Inverness Club course in 72, two over par.

Middlecoff, his game in complete collapse, skyrocketed to a 79, missing four putts of five feet and less, taking double bogeys on two holes and never carding a birdie. He won only two holes—the second and ninth—with pars.

The playoff was a dull anticlimax to yesterday's pulse-stirring windup when the almost forgotten defending champion came roaring from eight strokes back with two record-tying 68s and birdies on two of the last three holes to tie the Mayer at 282.

Mayer had sunk a birdie putt on the 72nd and had submitted to the "champion's interview" in the press tent when Middlecoff made his sensational birdie spurge.

Lost 3 Years Ago
Sitting in the clubhouse, Mayer must have experienced the same heartache when another Open was snatched from his grasp three years earlier.

In the 1954 tournament at Baltusrol, N. J., the new champion came to the 72nd hole needing a par four to win and bogey five to tie for the title. He hit his drive into an unplayable lie—after a spectator had yelled while he was on his backswing—and with a seven which gave him a third place tie behind the winner, Ed Furgol.

Starting today's playoff, Middlecoff, seeking to become the fourth man in history to win as many as three of these great titles, was an overwhelming favorite over the clean-cut New England native who never has won a major championship.

Misses Easy Putt
The rangy Memphis dentist hacked his drive and mixed an easy five-foot putt on the first hole. His confidence obviously shattered, he went from bad to worse, spraying his drives, exploring traps and hidden creeks and putting like a Sunday duffer.

Mayer, who swings unusual glass-shafted clubs, made the only birdie of the day—a three on the 566-yard sixth where he sank a six-foot putt.

Mayer was born in Stamford, Conn., the son of a well-to-do su-

72 Will Vie For Keystone Open Crown

HERSHEY, Pa., June 16 (AP)—Seventy-two golfers will tee off tomorrow for the 41st annual Pennsylvania Open on the Hershey Country Club and Hershey Park golf courses.

The list of headliners is topped by Henry Williams Jr., of the Berkleigh Country Club, Kutztown, winner of the 1954 state open in 1954.

Williams took top honors in 1954 with a five under 141 for the 36 holes and then lost his championship to the late Johnny Weitzel in a 36-hole playoff the following year.

Weitzel, who was also last year's champion, was later killed in an automobile accident.

The field will be divided between the two courses, with half playing the country club in the morning and the others teeing off at the park course. The two groups will switch playing areas for the afternoon round.

$1,000 To Victor
Prize money for the Pennsylvania Open totals $3,000 with 15 prizes ranging from $1,000 to the victor to $36 for the 15th place finisher. Trophies will be presented to the three best amateur performers.

Seeking a crack at the prizes will be such familiar names as Skeel Reigel of Radnor Valley Country Club; Dick Schleicher, President Eisenhower's pro at the Gettysburg Country Club; Stan Dugas of the North Hills Country Club, and John Vasco of the Lehigh Country Club.

tomobile dealer. He started playing golf at the age of 8, competed as an amateur at 10 and turned professional at 25.

He was in the tank corps of the Army during World War II, serving in the European and Mediterranean theaters. His professional career has been marked by only spotty success.

Brown-Zulueta Title Match Heads Week's Boxing Slate

The Associated Press
JOE Brown defends his world's lightweight title Wednesday at Denver against Orlando Zulueta of Cuba in a match that shares the week's boxing interest with a Kid Gavilan-Vince Martinez rematch, a comeback by Bobo Olson and two bouts involving highly ranked middleweights.

Martinez, winner of a disputed decision over the former welterweight champ in February, gives Gavilan another chance Monday night at Roosevelt Stadium in Jersey City.

Olson will make his first comeback start against Joey Maxim, former light heavyweight king, Tuesday at Portland, Ore. Bobo, knocked out twice by Sugar Ray Robinson as a middleweight, now is a light heavy.

Joe Giambra of Buffalo ranked No. 4 in the middleweight class boxes Eddy Calhoun of White Plains, N. Y., on the Friday show at Syracuse, N. Y. Calhoun is listed as No. 6 by Ring and No. 7 by the National Boxing Assn.

Giambra has won nine in a row, including technical knockouts over Al Andrews and Chico Vejar this year. Calhoun has lost only two of 29 starts, bowing to Joey Giardello on a split decision, May 17 at Cleveland.

Webb Faces Joseph
Spider Webb, No. 3 in both ratings of middleweights, takes on Charley Joseph, ranked New Orleans 160-pounder in New Orleans in a Tuesday scrap.

Welterweights will be in action at St. Nicholas Arena in New York with Felix Chlocca of France fighting Tony De Cola of Brooklyn in a 10-round match.

Brown's second lightweight title defense will be held at the Denver Auditorium against Zulueta who has beaten Joey Lopez, Ray Portilla and Larry Boardman in recent months.

Because he broke his right hand while winning the championship from Wallace "Bud" Smith last summer, Brown was inactive from Aug. 24 until he stopped Smith in 13 rounds at Miami Beach, Feb. 13. Zulueta is rated third by Ring and fourth by the NBA among the challengers.

The Chlocca-De Cola bout will be seen on Montevision in some sections, Brown-Zulueta on ABC radio-TV and Giambra-Calhoun on NBC radio-TV.

Thomson Race Victor
READING, Pa., June 16 (AP)—Wrestling the lead from Tommy Himmelsitz in the homestretch of the fourth lap, Johnny Thomson of Boyertown roared to an easy victory in the third annual 100 lap Mike Nazaruk Memorial big car race this afternoon at the Reading Fairgrounds.

Earl Groner Graduates From Michigan

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—Earl F. Groner Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl F. Groner, 32 Club Court, Stroudsburg, Pa., received a Bachelor of Music degree here at the University of Michigan on Saturday.

Degrees were conferred on 5,509 graduates at the 113th Commencement.

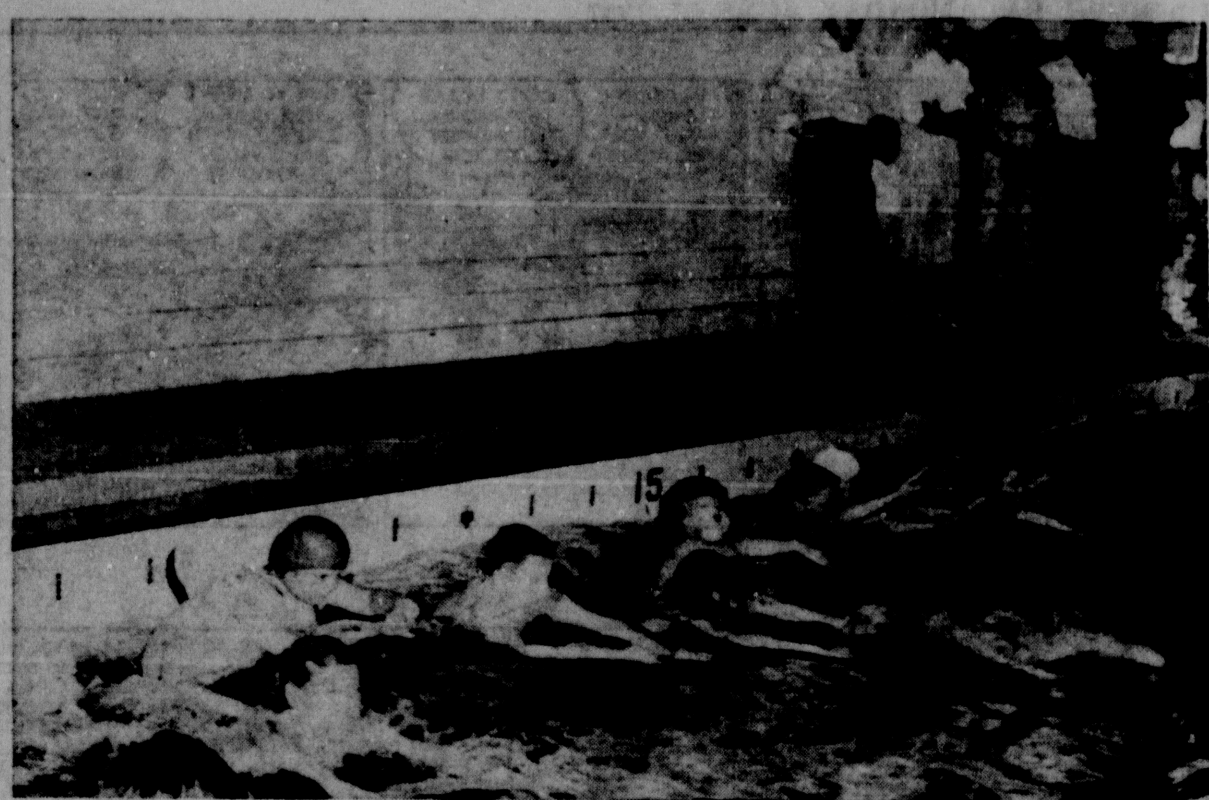

Commencement exercises were held in Michigan Stadium with U-M President Harlan Hatcher presiding. The commencement address was given by Dr. J. Roscoe Miller, president of the Northwestern University.

The commencement exercises honored 3,426 June graduates and 2,083 students who received degrees at the end of the 1956 Summer Session and the first semester of the academic year, making a combined total of 5,509.

Figures

This figure compares with 5,032 degrees granted during the 1955-56 year and marks the second time since the record-breaking year of 1949-50 when 7,055 degrees were granted that the grand total has shown an increase over the preceding year.

Hatcher also conferred five honorary degrees.

IN THE SWIM—A few of the 124 youngsters who completed the learn-to-swim course given at the YMCA pool are shown as they demonstrated their abilities for the benefit of their parents. Instructors were Nancy May and Bill McDonnell.

No Slacks Allowed

MEXICO CITY, June 16 (AP)—The big TV broadcasting center Telecinco is barring "women dressed like men." Officials said women spectators in slacks distract the performance.

Tobyhanna Township School Announces Last Honor Roll

Knights To Elect Slate Of Officers

MEMBERS of the Father Butler Council Knights of Columbus will elect new officers for the year of 1957-1958 at the regular monthly meeting of the Council tonight.

The meeting will be held at the Italian Club, starting at 8 p. m. Other important business concerning final arrangements for the forthcoming dinner-dance will also be taken care of during the meeting.

Grand Knight John Garrity in announcing the coming meeting, stressed the importance of all members being present and participating in the election of the new officers. He said, "The most important function that individual members of an organization can perform for it, is to concern themselves about electing officers who will be a credit and good example to the organization, and who will pledge themselves to support the elected officers." In saying this, Garrity stressed that the council will be only as good as its officers and members make it. Refreshments will be served.

Greene-Dreher Alumni Names New Officers

NEWFOUNDLAND — Officers were elected to head the Greene-Dreher-Sterling Alumni Assn. for 1957-1958, during the annual banquet at which one of the members offered a gift of land for the use of any industry seeking to locate in this community.

S. Elmore Haag was named president, succeeding Willis Gilpin in that office and heading these officers: Robert Shupe, vice president; Virginia Uhl, secretary; Evelyn Haldaman, assistant secretary; Alice Lentz, treasurer.

John Bysher, Sterling, a member of the Class of 1910, offered land for industrial purposes after a discussion by Robert Shupe, who served as master of ceremonies, had informed those attending of progress made by BIG (Bi-County Industrial Group) in this area.

Attendance There were 120 graduates of the school in attendance at the dinner. Two of the alumni were members of the class of 1903: Homer Gilpin and Brock Leaser. Edith Simons represented the class of 1906.

The largest representation was from the Class of 1934, followed by the Classes of 1922, 1923, 1932, 1949 and 1955. The roll call was read by Averill Butler.

V. A. Martin, one of Greene-Dreher-Sterling's graduates who has distinguished himself in the field of vocational agriculture, spoke about the "old days" and displayed some of his report cards gleaned from his attic. Martin retired in September, 1956, from his position as head of the Department of Vocational Agriculture at Pennsylvania State University.

Speakers during the event were three members of the Class of 1938: Franklin Madden, who discussed the Industrial Corporation; Judy Green, whose topic was "The Role of Women in the Bi-County Industrial Group"; and Ronald Robacker, who spoke on "Industry in Southern Wayne and Pike Counties."

Members of the 1957 graduating class were guests of the association and were introduced by Elmore Haag. Supervising Principal Leland Cramer spoke briefly.

Moving To City

BONN, June 16 (AP)—The West German Federal Statistics Office reports one out of three farm workers has deserted the land for the city in the past seven years. The influx to industry and commerce numbered 325,000.

Code May Tighten

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 16 (AP)—The state's industrial code governing protection against atomic radiation, already considered among the strictest in the nation, may be tightened still further.

Ties Up Subway System

NEW YORK, June 16 (AP)—Someone tossed an empty beer can in front of a subway train tonight as it was entering the 60th St. tunnel under the East River. The result was a 1 1/2-hour tieup that affected 35 trains and 75,000 passengers at the height of the evening rush period.

Crusade Ups Attendance

Science Shrinks Piles

NEW WAY WITHOUT SURGERY Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astounding statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H.® At your drugist. Money back guaranteed.
